ABOUT -

For this project I want to make a visual catalog of all the top female protagonists in classic films ranging from the decades 80s, 90s, and 2000's. This will be a collection of the role models I looked up to growing up and shaped me as a woman.

Movies have always been one of my favorite pastimes and the characters within them have helped me navigate the obstacle of being a heroine in my own life.

This catalog will serve as a resource for others to discover new films, but what I am most interested in is seeing just how many of these women are white. While this can serve as an aid and a platform for an already misrepresented group (women), I am most interested in seeing the bigger picture once all the images are placed together.

QUESTIONS -

How many of these women are white?
How many of these women are the same?
How old are these women?
How are women typically portrayed in classic cinema?
